PART 1: ANALYSIS

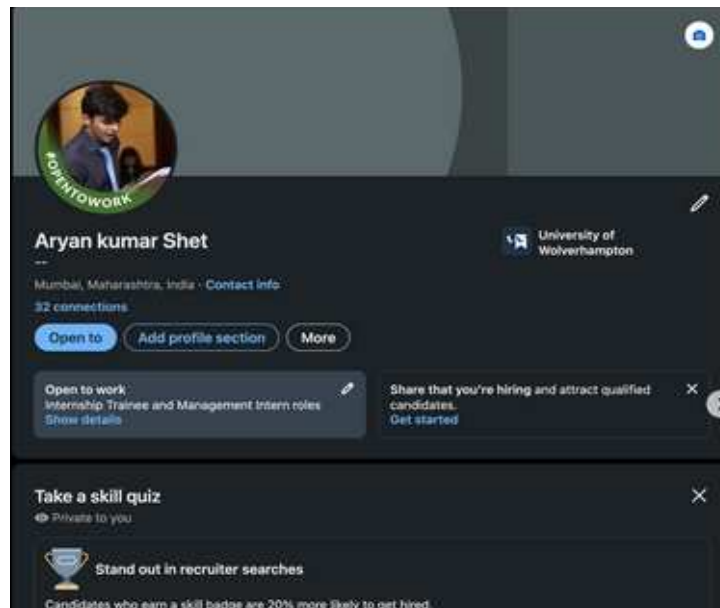

Introduction

This report is based on practical tasks integral to this report which starts with creating an optimised personal digital profile for the author Aryan Kumar Shet sufficient to apply for the position of Social Media Manager. With a focus on competition and influencer analysis in the context of Social Media marketing, the research investigates the strategic and practical application of social media platforms, search engines and user engagement. This profile is built based on and includes the social media profiles of Pam Moore, Mike Alton and Lilach Bullock.

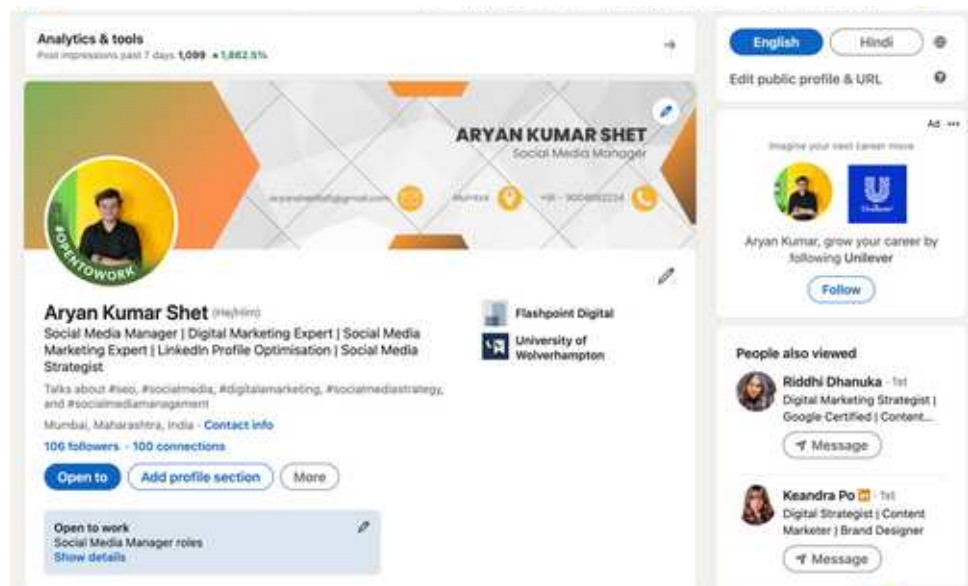

This report will lead to understand the industry and the employers and what they seek and how their skills can be used to create an ideal profile for the author to get recruited by potential employers. The author has chosen LinkedIn to create an online presence based on their persona and brand to be discovered by the potential recruiters.

The methodology implemented for the report is based on extensive research and use empirical data to adopt strategies to build a profile which will help the author to aim for better understanding of the abilities and traits required by future employers:

- A. Improving professional exposure on the LinkedIn platform through the implementation of a Social Media Manager based profiling.
- B. Creating a profile to target certain hiring employers in order to gain more exposure to work opportunities.
- C. Establishing personal goals to foster inherent motivation for professional development.

The picture above shows the LinkedIn profile of the author before coming across this module and shows that it isn't exactly the optimum way to build a LinkedIn profile and how recruiters may skip over it as it is not that appealing or doesn't market the author's brand and skillset.

The picture above shows an optimised LinkedIn profile with Social media strategies involved to make it efficient and help with recruiters noticing the account better given the efficient display of skills set. The optimised Profile markets the authors brand perfectly and provides with all the details of the author professional background.

Section 1.1. Key Skills and Attributes in the journal published by Nuryake Fajaryati and etc, they have mentioned and have supported the study Brewer stated that employees must be capable of:

- Constant learning and flexibility

Section 1.2. Keyword Research and Key Skills and Attributes

The practice of finding common words and phrases that people are type into a search engine to find the information they're looking for is known as keyword research (Rogers, 2022). The website will show up on the search results page if anyone generates content or a blog post using popular search terms. This is due to a match between the website's keywords and the search terms. As a result of the additional users crawling the site, (LinkedIn, n.d.). the author has decided to use a mix of long tail and short tail keywords to optimize their profile from the table mentioned below in their LinkedIn profile to increase their search optimization to be among the top searches in the vast amount of information in the general topic (Sidor, 2022).

Comparing hashtags, keywords, categories and tags

Here's a nifty table that compares various aspects of hashtags, keywords, categories and tags. It covers which are important for SEO, where they show up and who you should hire to make them work harder for you.

	Hashtags	Keywords/ Keyphrases	Categories	Tags
Useful for SEO?	☐	☒	☒ (Possible)	☐
Displays in search results?	☐	☒	☒ (Time/Space)	☐
Useful for your core audience?	☒	☒	☒	☒
How many should you have?	0-30 1-2 1-2 2-3 <30	Your headings will probably focus on one, but you can use as many similar keyword clusters as you see fit	Ideally, no more than 7 for your entire site. For each blog post, try to minimize category overlap	As many as you want, but try to re-use tags across content, instead of accumulating 100's of tags attached to one post each

- The hashtag symbol (#) is used for social media hashtags but not for SEO keywords. Unless the discussion is about a specific movement.
- Hashtags help the audience find material on the social media platform where the information seeker puts it. SEO keywords are utilized by bots and the audience to find a relevant page on the website.
- Keywords extend beyond a word's topic. Keywords are about "search intent": the broader context of knowing why someone is searching for specific terms.
- Keywords do not have to be a single word. (Knott, 2021).

The author has used SEMrush as a keyword research tool to find out the importance and popularity of the most searches in the social media marketing and managing field.

Table 1.1 – Primary and Secondary keywords used by the author. Source: SEMrush

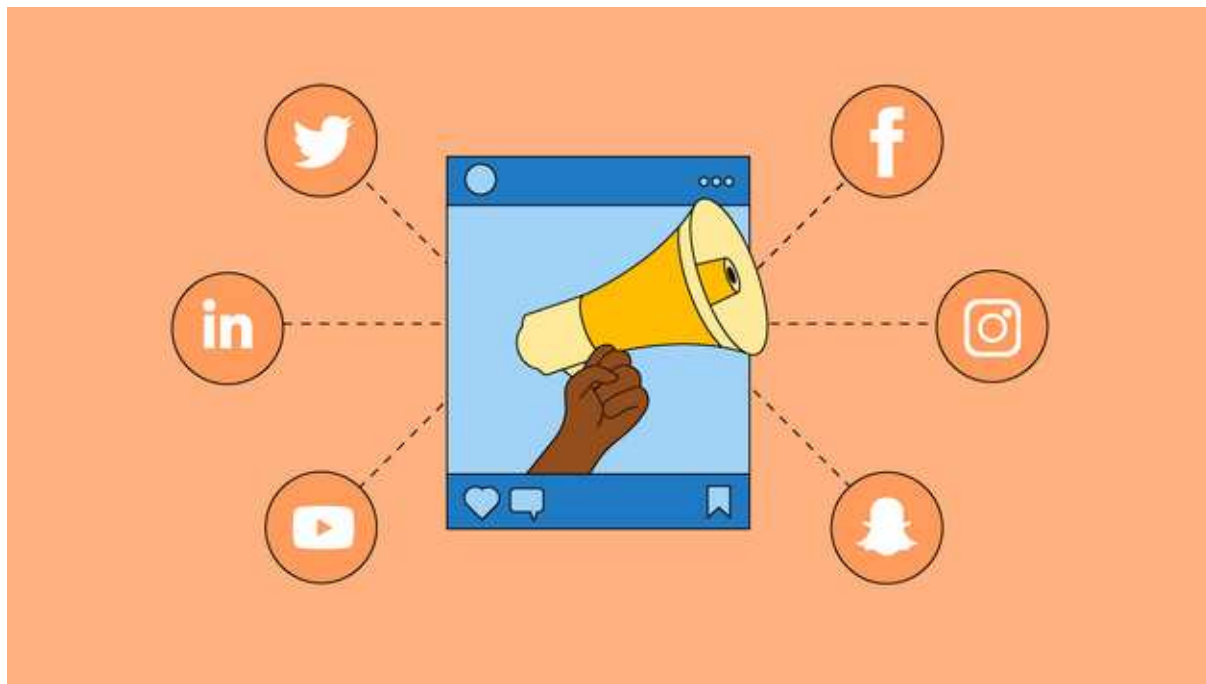

The primary keywords are the ones for which needs to rank. These are high-volume search terms that can drive a significant quantity of traffic to the site (Steven J Wilson, 2020). Primary keywords should be addressed to a larger audience and scattered throughout the text on the site. Essential keywords should appear in the title, headings, anchor links, and first and last lines (Steven J Wilson, 2020).

Secondary keywords serve as a supplement. In other words, they supplement the primary keywords with extra data. Although secondary keywords do not have the same SEO value as primary keywords, they can still help outrank competitors (Steven J Wilson, 2020).

The author chose the precise keywords from the table above because they are optimal for gaining organic traffic to their LinkedIn profile and optimizing their account in their field of interest so recruiters can see it. The author picked out 30 keywords, 10 from influencers, 10 from competitors and 10 from employers and used the final 10 main key words in their keyword analysis.

SECTION 1.3. Influencer Analysis

An influencer is, “a person or group that has the ability to influence the behavior or opinions of others.” (Cambridge Dictionary, 2019). The author has chosen 3 influencers which are the leading face of the industry. Lilach Bullock, Mike Alton and Pam Moore are professional influencers who are connected to several top connections and provide content on digital marketing, social media marketing, social media management and SEO optimization.

Table 1.2 – Detailed Influencer analysis (LinkedIn, 2023)

The extensive influencer analysis assisted the author in determining how to target a particular audience of individuals to make that their area of expertise. The influencers listed above are among the most successful industry leaders. The author recognizes that influencers have engaged their audience through instructive postings, workshops, online polls, webinars, podcasts, keynote speaking, and advertising of the services they and their organizations provide. The target audience appears that they have engaged favorably, and they prefer influencers that can create content 24 hours a day, seven days a week. These influencers routinely provide diversified material on exciting digital marketing components, trends, and daily news, and they have been awarded and have received multiple awards and recommendations from top industry professionals by consistently implementing their most effective techniques.

How did this influencer analysis help you to improve your personal branding and create better optimization on SERP pages:

The author plans to include the same amount of high keyword search volume for their profile to receive recognition rapidly. The author also intends to start writing further blog posts to connect with their target audience and get feedback based on their work. Sharing personal life stories along the lines with their passion for the field is something of the author's interest and they would like to carry out polls and Q & A's to engage with their audience efficiently. They also plan to talk about the latest trends and tools in the field of social media marketing and managing and analyze them for their target audience to grow on their niche, which will improve searches and profile visits as SERP rankings will increase on web browsers and on the LinkedIn app.

SECTION 1.4. Competitor Analysis (Refer to Appendix)

Competitor analysis helps to learn the functionality of our competitors and what strategies they are using to create unique opportunities for to outperform them (White, 2022). All competitors have around 2 to 3 years in experience in the social media managing industry which is what the author is aiming to obtain as well. The author has mentioned their competitors and their strategy to build their profiles.

- Pooja Chauhan
- Svkriti Bharadwaj
- Dev Pandit

Reason for choosing these competitors

To optimize a good LinkedIn Profile, the author needed to understand the strategies of its competitors and decided to go with the top three Competitors who are around their locality working in the same field as social media managing. This helped the author to develop on their weaknesses while figuring out their strengths and use the opportunity to outperform on building the optimized LinkedIn profile to get recognized by the recruiters. The competitors are analyzed thoroughly based on their LinkedIn profiles and have mentioned their strengths and weaknesses.

SECTION 1.5. Personal Benchmarking (Refer to Appendix)

Personal Benchmarks is a tool which helps an individual to grow by measuring metrics and practices that matches the individual's goals (Eikenberry, 2022). The author has made a personal benchmark for themselves using the Locke and Latham's Goal-Setting Theory.

1. The clarity in the goals

The author has created long term and short terms goals to make a successful pathway to achieve their Personal Benchmarks which will allow them to reach their goals while having tackling problems with its priority. The clarity in goals helps the author to be time efficient and work smartly to increase their profile optimization within the time frame.

Short term goals

The author has noticed posting original content on LinkedIn leads to recognition from potential followers which increases engagement as it provides information for the audience and also creates a professional element to the author's profile. Joining groups on LinkedIn leads to getting better networks and interacting them for ideas and strategies which can benefit the author to increase engagement from their target audience. The author can also post their blogs to the Joined groups where audience from the similar field view the authors work and increases the chances of reposting and leave constructive criticisms and positive feedback. Applying for the entry level jobs will help the author's profile to get recognised and get potentially recruited by sending their resumes to secure a job posting. The author also wants to complete google garage courses mentioned in the table which will lead to a better qualification and skill set for recruiters to get noticed.

Period	Tasks to be carried out	Monitoring of tasks
3 Months	• Posting Original Content on LinkedIn • Join LinkedIn groups • Increase Engagement on LinkedIn • Apply for entry level jobs/Internships for Social Media Management • Increase connections with Active users with top connections on LinkedIn • Increase followers • Increase website traffic	To be monitored weekly using LinkedIn analytics
6 Months	• Finish the Google garage course: - Promote a Business with Content - Make sure customers find you online • Regularly optimising my LinkedIn page.	To be monitored weekly using LinkedIn analytics

Long term goals

Writing LinkedIn Blogs to produce original content and to increase viewership on their blog to keep all information in the same platform to reduce multiple channels of Content creation as it may reduce engagement or the audience may not click on the link which will not provide a quality result for the author's work. Pursuing a Master's degree from one of the reputed colleges in The United Kingdom after graduation to increase their skill set and value as a personal brand.

Period	Tasks to be carried out	Monitoring of tasks
1 Year	• Write LinkedIn blogs • Apply for LinkedIn courses • Being Active on LinkedIn	To be monitored weekly using LinkedIn analytics
2 Years	• Pursue Masters in Digital Marketing

2. Challenge

The goals set are challenged the author to create an optimised profile and as well as spark the interest for the author. This will also provide the author time with researching for their goals and develop strategies realistically (Mind Tools, 2022). Developing skill sets to complete all the tasks will require a longer duration to successfully gain the fullest value and the author has kept that into consideration while designing their personal benchmarks.

3. Consistency and commitment

Posting consistently

LinkedIn Profiles will benefit from posting 2-3 times a week rather than randomly throughout the month if they are posted consistently. Taking the time to plan captions for the content at the beginning of the week (Slavin, 2021).

Creating Original Content consistently creating a content calendar can help to organise what the author wants to work on which is inspired by the current trends and engagement. Structuring your content according to the needs of your target audience to increase engagement on the LinkedIn profile. This can be done by pre writing your content while understanding what the target audience prefers the most on the author's platform (MacMohan, 2017).

Developing the Skill sets consistently

Most employers prefer a candidate with wider skills set and the author wishes to develop their skills sets consistently to have a wider knowledge to possess a competitive edge over the competitors (Indeed Editorial Team, 2022).

4. Gaining feedback through analytics and audience

The author wishes to check their progress on a weekly basis, however, the effectiveness of the content creation needs to be measured which is done by LinkedIn Analytics. The tool can help the author to measure their engagement rate, viewer demographics and performance of their posts. Feedback through LinkedIn groups and constructive criticisms from colleagues and networks on LinkedIn can help the author to improve their content as well (Kumar, 2016).

5. Task Complexity

The Personal Benchmark designed by the author to complete their tasks is difficult. However, the author has designed this task to be able to prioritise tasks which will help them to optimise their LinkedIn Social media profile immediately while keeping other tasks for long term purposes to slowly gather knowledge and focus on the requirements later (Kumar, 2016).

PART II (SECTION 2): PRACTICAL PLAN

SECTION 2.1: PESTLE ANALYSIS

	Impact on the industry	Specification on the importance of the Digital Marketing Industry
Political	High	- India has a stable administration, although political instability in particular regions might have an influence on the sector. This might cause problems in internet services as well as supply chains and logistics. - The government's regulations on data protection, net neutrality, and digital payments may have an influence on the business as well. Data localization rules, for example, might make it more difficult for businesses to retain and handle data, whereas changes to net neutrality policies can affect the availability and pricing of internet services.
Economical	High	- The Indian economy is quickly expanding, and rising consumer spending power is fuelling the expansion of digital marketing. As a result, digital advertising spending is increasing, particularly on mobile devices. - The advent of e-commerce and the expansion of the digital payments sector are also fuelling the growth of digital marketing. As a result, the usage of social media and mobile devices for buying and payment is increasing.
Social	Moderate	- India has a young population, and the growing use of smartphones and social media is propelling the expansion of digital marketing. As a result, the usage of social media platforms for advertising and marketing is increasing. - The variety of India's culture and languages offers additional obstacles for marketers seeking to attract a broad audience. When building marketing efforts, marketers must consider the country's cultural and linguistic variety.

Technological	High	• The fact that India has a big pool of competent IT experts is encouraging innovation in the digital marketing business. As a result, new technologies and tools for marketers are being developed. • Marketers are finding new chances as emerging technology, such as artificial intelligence and augmented reality, become more widely adopted. AI-powered chatbots, for example, may be utilised to boost customer engagement and assistance.
Legal	Moderate	• India has data privacy and cybersecurity rules and regulations that affect the digital marketing business. Marketers must follow these rules while collecting and processing customer data. • Advertising restrictions, such as those governing influencer marketing, also apply to the sector. Marketers must ensure that their advertising initiatives adhere to these rules.
Environmental	Low	• The environment has nothing to do with the digital marketing sector in India. However, the industry's usage of energy and resources can have an influence on the environment. Marketers must consider the environmental impact of their actions and seek solutions to lower their carbon footprint.

(Mishra, 2019)

SECTION 2.2: SWOT ANALYSIS

SWOT Analysis, short for strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, threats is a business strategy tool to assess how an organization compares to its competition (Teoli and An, 2019). The Author has identified their SWOT factors to evaluate their current performance in the industry and how the developed personal benchmarks from the author will help them to achieve their desired goal as a Social Media Manger.

Strengths	Weaknesses
• Acquired a Certification in : The fundamentals of Digital Marketing. • Successfully structured a SEO optimised profile. • Have used Appropriate keywords and performed a keyword analysis to increase SERP rankings. • 100+ Followers on LinkedIn in 10 days on LinkedIn • Professional Background Image • Previously worked with Radio Mirchi FM on a project for IBDP assessment. • Functioning Website For their Freelance Company. • Posted a LinkedIn Blog • Professional About section with appropriate keywords. • Specialisation in Digital Marketing, Social Media Management and marketing.	• Lack of experience. The Author has only one internship compared to their competitors. • Lack of Industry required Skill Certifications. • Lack of Recommendations provided for the author. • Lack of Original Content produced for their target audience. • Low endorsements for the author's skill set.
Opportunities	Threats
• Acquiring certifications from recognised online University platforms like Harvard, Stanford online courses etc and Google garage courses like : - Promote a Business with Content - Make sure customers find you online • Pursuing Master's in marketing Management from a recognised University in the United Kingdom • The Digital Marketing industry is growing rapidly, increasing growth of eCommerce platforms through social media platforms.	• Increasing Competition is still hard to tackle as there are thousands of candidates applying on LinkedIn. • Inflation is showing a growth which may indicate towards a recession which leads to less recruiters hiring. • Social Media industry has high chances of data breach which tarnishes Brand reputation and leads the theft of account credentials.

|--|--|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Outperforming competitors is easier as most candidates have a weak profile in India. | |

(Self, 2023)

The PESTLE and SWOT analysis has led the author to find the current external factors in the digital marketing industry and how they have to Practically plan their performance benchmarks to improve their chances of getting noticed by recruiters.

SECTION 2.3: SMART OBJECTIVES

A specified, measurable, achievable, relevant, and time-bound goal is referred to as a SMART goal. SMART objectives specify how a group or organisation will attain a goal. The author has used SMART objectives to project a specific structure and support objectives (Department of Health, 2023).

Implementation of smart objectives:

- Reach 1000 followers by 1/09/2023
- Apply for entry level job by 1/08/2023
- Establish networks with influencers and increase impressions on LinkedIn
- Have an average posts of 3 per week.
- Increase web traffic on the website created by the author
- Increase average likes by 100 per post

Specific	• The author is targeting to increase engagement/followers/connections • Post original content • Write more blogs
Measurable	• Using linked analytics to measure growth/social media strategies • Using financial metrics to analyse the performance of websites
Attainable	• Attainable to create an optimised linked in profile • Attain a sustainable outlook and focus
Realistic	• The goals are set to create a successful profile and to become a skilful social media manager/marketer • Developing realistic strategies
Timely	• The author has mentioned a timeframe to accomplish all the objectives starting from 1st June to a 3-month, 6-month, 1 year & 2-year plan

SECTION 2.4: SEARCH, SOCIAL MEDIA AND FREELANCE MARKETING STRATEGY

Search Strategy

Using The keywords from the keyword analysis, the author will use those keywords to create an optimum SERP Ranking profile. the strategy will lead people with similar interests towards the authors page. This strategy helps to bring in audience towards your profile using keywords with higher search rates.

Social Media Strategy

Social Media stratgies help you acquire the metrics you desire by posying smartly and using the full potential of the tools the platform provides. using LinkedIn, the author plans to use hashtags, keywords, post consitently and post during the maximum number of audience present (5 to 9 pm) to increase engagement and impressions.

Freelance Marketing Strategy

Freelance website created by the author will help the author to work with various companies which will increase their work experienceand skills. This will lead to a better knowledge of Business tools and sectors. the author wishes to use pay per click strategy to increase their web traffic while requesting referrals from their clients can optimise their LinkedIn profile as well.

SECTION 2.5: TARGET AUDIENCE

A target audience is a collection of people who have comparable requirements and interests to those of the business. In most situations, these are the final consumers (SendPluse, 2023). The target audience for the author are identified to be:

- Company recruiters (HR)
- Influencers
- Group Admins On LinkedIn
- Clients for freelancing

Justification for Selected social media

The author is using LinkedIn as a social media platform to target their audience, the platform creates an easier pathway to search for:

- Creating an online Prescence for your professional field.
- job postings
- receiving skill endorsements
- Showing creativity in your industry field
- Using as a tool to conduct surveys and polls (Rycraft, 2018)

Other social media platforms do not necessarily keep a professional oriented platform to discuss about latest trends and business news (Garg, 2017).

Professionals mostly use this platform for career growth and the author wishes to do the exact same with their profile on LinkedIn.

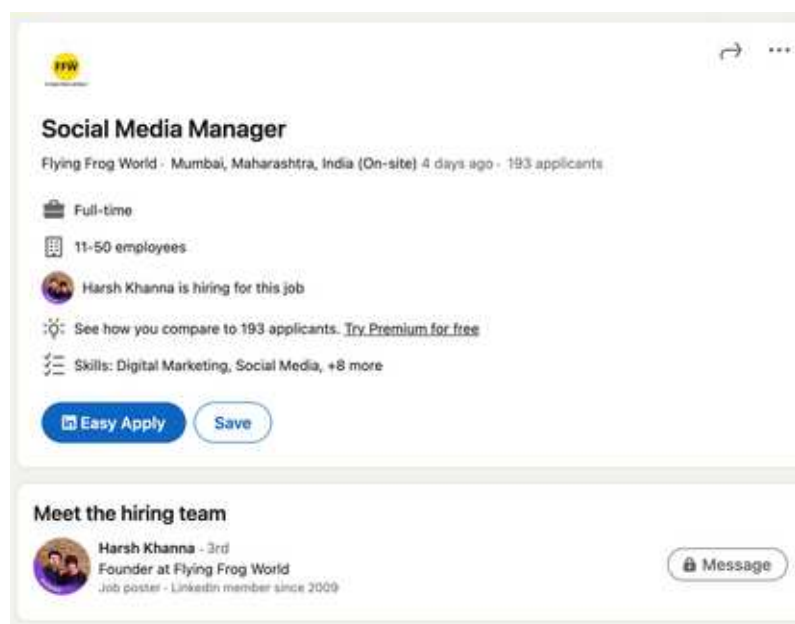

platform	How is LinkedIn better
Instagram	Instagram is a social networking platform for photo sharing. People use it to exchange images and videos. The primary downside of Instagram is its simple function, which allows users to just post photographs and videos. This is not encouraged in the present marketing environment since customers want to know more about the product than just looking at the picture. A poor image may cause you to lose followers. Another significant drawback of Instagram is that its app is only available for iPhone and Android devices.

Facebook	When it comes to marketing, LinkedIn has several advantages and is more successful than Facebook. LinkedIn is more secure than Facebook, which means your profile is more secure. In comparison to LinkedIn, we frequently read about Facebook profiles being stolen. As a result, many prefer LinkedIn to Facebook. There are over 83 million fraudulent Facebook profiles, according to research. As a result, we cannot rely on the legitimacy of a Facebook page. Facebook is mostly a social networking platform, but LinkedIn is primarily a marketing platform through which one may interact with actual recruiters for a job. As a result, LinkedIn is chosen over Facebook for marketing purposes.
Twitter	Twitter is the most recent popular short messaging platform that popularised the term Hashtag. Twitter receives about 500 million tweets every day on average. People tweet about current events and brief inspiring words. However, when it comes to marketing, Twitter appears to lag behind because tweets are mostly focused on breaking news or hot subjects. On the platform, Twitter users may tweet about their items. When it comes to communicating with users or customers, though, Twitter appears to fall behind LinkedIn. The primary downside of Twitter is that when a new topic becomes popular, people begin to follow it and forget about previous issues.

Ways to Communicate with the Targeted Audience

There are multiple ways to communicate with your target audience through the social media app and some of them are:

- LinkedIn Easy Apply:
This tool allows job searchers to apply for positions on LinkedIn with only a few clicks. Job searchers may use LinkedIn Easy Apply to submit their resume and cover letter immediately to a job advertising, and the material will be delivered straight to the company. This shortens and simplifies the job application process, saving job searchers time and effort.
- Networking with your followers:
This tool allows job searchers to apply for positions on LinkedIn with only a few clicks. Job searchers may use LinkedIn Easy Apply to submit their resume and cover letter immediately to a job advertising, and the material will be delivered straight to the company. This shortens and simplifies the job application process, saving job searchers time and effort.
- Commenting on posts for additional information:
LinkedIn's commenting tool allows you to interact with other professionals in your field by commenting on their postings. Commenting on blogs may also be a fantastic opportunity to ask questions or get more information, which can help you grow your knowledge and network.
- Using Freelance Projects to showcase experience and skills:
Include information about their work, such as a portfolio, hourly rate, and availability under the experience section with the freelance company name. This makes it easy for potential clients to locate and recruit freelancers with the necessary skills and expertise.

As a student in the marketing program at the University of Wolverhampton, I had the opportunity to take a module called "The Marketing Consultancy." This module was focused on providing students with practical experience working with clients and developing marketing strategies to solve real-world problems. Through this module, I gained valuable experience that has prepared me for pursuing a career in social media management.

One of the key benefits of the module was the focus on developing marketing strategies tailored to specific clients. This experience was invaluable in preparing me for working with clients as a social media manager, as it allowed me to develop a deep understanding of client needs and how to develop strategies that meet those needs.

In conclusion, the module "Marketing Consultancy" at the University of Wolverhampton has provided me with practical experience and valuable skills that have prepared me for pursuing a career in social media management. The focus on digital marketing, social media marketing, personal branding, and exposure to a variety of marketing tactics and strategies have all contributed to my success as a social media manager, and I am grateful for the experience I gained through this module. Debarati Gautam Thank you, ma'am, for guiding me through this module and educating me about the essence of social media marketing and how to be a better social media marketer.

About:

I decided to pursue business studies when I was electing my subjects for my IBDP curriculum and chose to sit in a teaching demonstration. It was there that I discovered my passion for social media and digital marketing. Having a strong desire to test these tactics, I tried them on my own social media platforms in an effort to see if they were effective. Surprisingly, I earned hundreds of followers and was able to speak with my favourite social media influencers.

After spending a whole year at the university specialising in marketing, I have learned a list of skills:

- Digital Marketing
- Social Media Marketing
- Social Media Management
- Search Engine Optimization

when I apply these skills to my work, I try to stay up to trend with the task and the social media marketing strategies while having a creative viewpoint combined with critical thinking. It is a passion of mine to Manage social media handles because it fully utilizes my strengths as a social media marketer.
